

PDM can provide consulting services in the areas of lube and grease manufacture engineering & design plus product formulation & specification technology.

As our resources are somewhat limited, projects are carefully evaluated to ensure we have the capability of completing them in a timely and professional manner.